

Topology for driving bidirectional current into Peltier Element.

Current in the Peltier element is the difference between the two monitored currents.

